

Theme Park Day

A fully developed roadmap your Fun Ally can run for you — copy, paste, done.

What this playbook does

You want the theme park day from the commercials — short lines, no stress, everyone laughing in the photos. Not the version where you spend $400 to stand in line for four hours and snap at your family by 2pm. This playbook turns your Ally into a trip director who runs the whole planning operation, so the only decisions you make are the fun ones.

Inside the roadmap

- Pick the park and the date — crowd calendar science, not vibes, so you get the right park on the right day.
- Handle tickets, reservations, and the app — the setup most people skip and regret skipping.
- Build the battle plan — rope-drop strategy, a must-do shortlist, and an hour-by-hour skeleton that beats the lines.
- In-park co-pilot — real-time line strategy, when to eat, when to rest, and when to hold your spot for fireworks.

How it works

Every section comes as copy-paste prompts your Ally can run right away — with the right tools, permissions, and accounts, your Ally does the heavy lifting. If you can copy and paste, you can do this.
